

About World Endeavors

World Endeavors is made up of a small, committed staff. Each staff member has volunteered, traveled, studied, worked or lived abroad. Our mission is to be a catalyst for positive change in the lives of our participants, our community, and the world. We strive to make the process of going abroad easy and rewarding. And out of all of the programs available today, from the extremely expensive to the very cheap, we are confident that we provide the best level of service at the most affordable cost.

World Endeavors is a provider of unique international study, internship, and volunteer programs. If you are looking for an extraordinary experience abroad, we can help you explore the possibilities. There are a few key elements that make our programs unique:

Incredible Experiences

Learn a new language, earn academic credit, gain valuable professional internship experience, or volunteer to help children, families, or the environment. Read more about these great programs on the pages that follow.

Affordability

We offer some of the most affordable programs available. Federal financial aid can be used to study abroad. And our other programs tend to be less than the cost of a vacation.

Exciting Destinations

From Florence, London, and Seville to Bangkok, Kathmandu, and Sydney, there are countless destinations to choose from.

Flexible Schedules

Because we offer both short-term and long-term programs, there is a program starting virtually every week of the year. Our programs run from 2 weeks to a full academic year.

Support and Advice

Whether you choose to volunteer, intern, or study abroad, World Endeavors provides comprehensive support for its participants. For our volunteers, we offer detailed pre-departure information and extensive in-country support for a safe, culturally informed volunteer experience. We partner with quality local organizations and employ expert local on-site directors to provide the best volunteer programs available.

For our interns and students, we support and lead the participant through the application process, class selection and housing search keeping in constant contact for any questions that might arise. We advise participants on matters of health and safety, insurance, and other important considerations.

“ I have been home for about 12 days now and I just wanted to tell you that I had an outstanding time. I give World Endeavors HUGE praise to everyone that asks about my trip and I just wanted to thank you for helping to make it all possible. ”

— Katee / USA (Volunteer in the Philippines)

“ In my search for short term volunteer opportunities I stumbled across World Endeavors. The programs immediately appealed to me in that they were culturally aimed programs, especially those that focused on children. Additionally, I like that World Endeavors offers volunteer placements at an affordable cost. ”

— Annie / USA

“ Thailand was incredible! I not only studied Thai, I lived it. This has been a life-changing experience that I will never forget. ”

— Nick / USA

“ I loved the diversity of my experience. Living in a city and staying with a family enabled learning that would have otherwise been unattainable for a tourist... I would not trade any aspect of my trip for anything – I am so grateful for the time I spent in Ecuador. ”

— Kate / USA (Volunteer in Ecuador)

“ My internship was great and I met lifelong friends there!...The language classes were great. Small class sizes, great teachers, and I learned so much! At my internship I was able to do a variety of things and actually get into the real Spanish culture and life...I will definitely recommend World Endeavors to anyone I meet who is thinking of going abroad and of course for myself in the future! ”

— Rachael / USA (Intern in Spain)
